

COMPUTER SHOPPER[®]

THE MOST COMPREHENSIVE GUIDE TO TODAY'S TECHNOLOGY | computershopper.com

MAY 2007

Wild one

If you need to compute in environments more physically punishing than a seven-city road trip, Twinhead's rugged $1,499 D14RY notebook might be the way to go. Its magnesium-alloy case is 20 times stronger than ABS plastic, and it has an antishock mounting design and an optical-disc lock for added protection. The entire notebook, which has a 14.1-inch display, also repels spills. The D14RY is highly configurable, offering multiple processor speeds and hard drive sizes to meet your needs, at home and in the wild. Twinhead, usa.twinhead.com