GammaTech Computer Corp., Fremont, Calif., an international manufacturer and supplier of notebook and tablet computers, has introduced the Durabook S15C.

The S15C notebook computer features a magnesium alloy case 20 times stronger than ABS plastic and is tested to Military Standard 810G for drop and shock resistance. A flexible high density data cable design absorbs shock from drops, providing protection for important data while anti-shock mounting technology around the LCD helps protect computer screens from accidental damage. (Source: GammaTech Computer Corp., www.GammaTechUSA.com)
